Some Very Interesting Political Revelations.

THE GREAT STRIKE AT CHICAGO.

The Policy of Republican Senators. The New York Salmon Trade. Another California Victory at Chicago—Record of a Day.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—A Watertown, New York special to the Times says: "Since the announcement of the sale of the Albany Express and the reported affiliation of Blaine and Conkling as its silent proprietors, the stalwarts in Jefferson and St. Lawrence counties have been [illegible] and secrets of the campaign held by them begin to come out. No doubt the movement means [illegible] the defeat of Warner Miller's renomination [illegible] and urging Conkling to take a seat once more. Whether Conkling is a party to the scheme is not known. His friends in northern New York are sanguine he will not disappoint them."

The Times commenting on the above, says: "If Conkling were looking about for a political help mate he would not be likely to select Blaine [illegible] Logan. The rumor is improbable for the reason that the [illegible] of the Albany Express has distinctly said the Express would not be [illegible]."

A Watertown special also states that a telegraph letter from Blaine to Conkling written last fall requesting Conkling's cooperation in the campaign, but which was suppressed by Warner Miller's friends, is now in possession of Conkling's friends. The letter was written upon Conkling's intimation that he would take the stump for Blaine if personally requested so to do. Members of the republican executive committee to whose care it was sent yielded to the advice of Miller and his friends, who foresaw that Conkling's return to political life meant Miller's retirement, and consented to suppress the letter. At a conference of republicans at Ogdensburg, on Saturday last, all this was freely ventilated. Whether the story of Conkling's willingness to enter the field and Miller's treachery is true or not, it is believed in this part of the state that these disclosures have killed Miller's chances for re-election.

RESTRICTION ACT DECISION.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—In the case of Ching Hep and Hai Sing, steward and cook respectively of the ship San Joaquin, Captain Drinkwater, which arrived from Calcutta June 24, an important decision was rendered yesterday by United States Commissioner Allen. The case is the first one which has arisen in the district court involving the interpretation of acts of congress relating to exclusion from the United States of Chinese persons. After a careful review of the exclusion act and its amendments the decision says: "Seamen doing [illegible] for the purpose of becoming laborers at the port of destination, [illegible] upon performing duty upon a voyage to this country and [illegible] pursuing the vessel on upon outward passage, cannot be said to have come to the United States as laborers within the meaning of the law, [illegible] it is possible for a Chinese seaman after his arrival to change his status and remain in the United States as a laborer. In such event the party would become amenable to the provisions of the act."

In conclusion Commissioner Allen finds that in the case of Ching Hep and Hai Sing the evidence raised a presumption that they intended to land and remain in this country, and he finds there[illegible] for holding them to [illegible]. They are not, however, lawfully entitled to remain in the United States, and [illegible] of the body of laborers in this country. [illegible] preservation of their present status is required. Their future movements will [illegible] while they shall be regarded as under [illegible].

THE CHICAGO STREET RAILWAY STRIKE.

CHICAGO, July [illegible].—The western division street railway began running their cars on Madison street this morning, under the protection of a large force of police. A barricade had been erected at one point on the route, but police charged the crowd, using their clubs freely, and two men were seriously injured. The police took the aggressive, and as it was known they had orders to shoot, the crowd hesitated about becoming too demonstrative. Arrests were made [illegible]. Over one hundred arrests were made during the morning. The cars made one round trip successfully and then started on [illegible]. Madison street was [illegible] throughout its entire length, but a large police force succeeded in maintaining comparatively good order. At [illegible] cars were still running, carrying, however, only policemen, and no serious outbreak has occurred.

CHICAGO, July [illegible].—An open air meeting [illegible] ward of 1000 strikers and sympathizers was held to-night, which was still in progress at 11 o'clock. It was announced that Patrick Cooley, an aged engineer, who was severely clubbed by Captain [illegible] of the police force this morning, had died of his injuries. Though the meeting was an orderly one, great indignation was expressed, some of the speakers going so far as to say that lynching was the proper punishment for Mayor Harrison and members of the police force who are acting under his orders, and had offered such brutal treatment to inoffensive persons.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

MOUNT McGREGOR, N. Y., July [illegible].—General Grant required little attention of the doctor last night. During the twelve hours from [illegible] o'clock last night until [illegible] o'clock this morning the patient slept fully eight hours. He arose shortly before [illegible] o'clock this morning, and announced his intention of being dressed at once. This was done and before 10 o'clock the general was ready to go out upon the piazza, which he did. He strolled the length of the cottage on the veranda, and then sat in his chair enjoying the bright fresh air. The clouds had gone, and the sunshine was warm and grateful. The general's movements are brisker this morning; his strength seems greater than at the beginning of the week, and there are those in the family who have a firm belief the general may live until autumn. Those near the patient feel to-day not a little encouraged.

It transpires that General Grant as early as [illegible] o'clock this morning did some writing during the interval of wakefulness before his final rousing for the day.

Between [illegible] and [illegible] o'clock this afternoon General Grant was wheeled in his chair to the hotel. His appearance was the signal for a general rising, and salutes from guests on the veranda, which he returned briskly. After being wheeled around the hotel he was returned to the cottage.

FLOOD IN KANSAS.

NEOSHO FALLS, Ks., July [illegible].—The river has risen steadily for the past twenty four hours and is still rising. It now flows in a steady current through Main street. All of the east part of the city is under water. In the bottoms crops [illegible] all gone and most of the stock drowned. So far as known no lives were lost, although many families have been driven to the second story of their dwellings, and floors of business houses on Main street are covered with from one to five inches. The water is about twenty inches deep in Main street in front of the postoffice. A few tenements in the northeast quarter of the city may float during the night. The firing of guns and the ringing of bells has been heard on the river, and fears are entertained for the safety of some families. All the boats are out rescuing them, but the rise is so sudden that nearly all the boats escaped on the morning of the [illegible].

KANSAS CITY, July [illegible].—The Journal's Iola, Kansas, special says: The Neosho river at this point is on a stand. All harvested wheat has been swept away. Much livestock was drowned, and the loss of property will be very heavy.

THE POLICY OF REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Senator Conger, in an interview relating to the president's appointments and the senate's power of confirmation said: "It may as well be understood that we have conferred with each other, exchanged views, and to a certain extent formulated plans for next winter. When nominations come in you may put it down as pretty certain that republican senators will concede to the president the absolute right to nominate men of his own choosing for any of two kinds of positions. First, those whose terms of office have expired; second, those positions which are in any way connected with the policy of the administration. This is for precisely the same reason that a president should and does have the privilege of naming his own cabinet. There is hardly a case on record where the senate has in any way interfered with such appointments."

Conger continued that civil service reform would be looked into searchingly, as well as the offenses of partisan [illegible] and where unqualified officials were appointed for a term of years there might be considerable trouble.

NO HOPE FOR McCULLOUGH.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Mail and Express publishes a special dispatch from Philadelphia, giving the result of an interview with W. J. Johnson, attorney for John McCullough's wife. In reply to a question as to whether there is any hope of McCullough's ultimate recovery Mr. Johnson is quoted as saying: "The physicians at Bloomingdale informed Mrs. McCullough that while her husband might live for years, [illegible] apparent improvement his disease is progressive paralysis of the brain, and was absolutely incurable, ending within one or two years with utter imbecility and death."

MRS. DUDLEY TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—Mrs. Lucille Yseult Dudley was taken to the Middletown insane asylum to-day. She bade farewell to the matron and keeper of the Jefferson Market police station in an off-hand hearty way, and seemed quite willing to go to the asylum. She carried in her satchel over 500 letters she had received from all over the country, congratulating her on the verdict which declared her to be insane.

THE SALMON TRADE.

NEW YORK, July 3.—A representative of the firm of W. T. Coleman said to an OREGONIAN reporter this morning: "Statements published in trade papers that there were unusual signs of activity of the canned salmon industry are erroneous. The market just now is entirely nominal, [illegible] orders for new fish [illegible] Columbia river."

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE SHACKAMAXON BANK [illegible].

PHILADELPHIA, July [illegible].—A [illegible] which puts a new face upon the Shackamaxon bank failure and promises more important developments than any which have yet come to light was filed to-day in the common pleas court. The suit is by bank directors Joseph C. Ferguson and William H. Swire, against George W. [illegible], William H. Bunn, Thomas J. Haggard, Samuel H. Milliken, Joseph Conkling and executors of William Bunn deceased. The bill charges that defendants combined to defraud the bank and prays that the court order an account of money owing to the bank by defendants. It says further among other things, that "while acting as president of the bank this William Bunn without the knowledge of the directors obtained and took large sums of money from the bank, and at the time of his death was indebted to the bank in a very large sum. The exact amount complainants are unable to state, but they believe and aver that it was upward of $400,000."

This afternoon warrants were issued by the magistrate for the arrest of George W. Bunn, president; William H. Bunn, his brother; Thomas J. Haggard, cashier, and Samuel H. Milliken, director of the bank, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the bank of $400,000. Cashier Haggard is also accused of perjury in making false returns to the state auditor general. Late this afternoon a detective arrested George W. and William H. Bunn and held them in custody until the arrest could be made of Milliken and Haggard.

NEGRO LYNCHED.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 3.—John Bogan, a negro who criminally assaulted Mrs. Burner, a respectable widow, near Wadesboro, was discovered secreted in a cave at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, by a party of seventy five men, to whom he confessed his crime and gave a detailed account of the deed. His captors then took him to Wadesboro, and at 2 o'clock strung him up to a tree near the court house. His body was riddled with bullets and a placard was placed on his breast, which read as follows: "This is in [illegible] confessed the act. Our women must be protected."

RELEASED AND REARRESTED.

CHEYENNE, Wy., July 3.—The DeWalt habeas corpus case was decided by Judge [illegible] in favor of the prisoner, who was discharged. The court finds that he was convicted of an infamous crime and should have been proceeded against on indictment, not information. DeWalt was immediately rearrested by United States authorities on the same charge. He will be taken to Denver to-morrow, where he will be indicted for the same offense.

ACCIDENTS.

THREE MEN KILLED.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., July [illegible].—A railroad accident has occurred on the Kansas City, Springfield and Memphis railroad between Arcadia and [illegible], about twenty five miles south of this city. Heavy rains of the last few days had caused the streams to swell to an unusual extent and as freight train No. 8 in charge of Conductor Ed Thompson passed over a small stream at that point the bridge gave way and the engine and sixteen cars were precipitated into the water. The conductor was in the caboose at the time, and he with Engineer Robert Ross and Fireman William Reynolds went down with the engine and all three were drowned.

A PROMINENT OFFICER RESIGNS.

Advices Concerning the Indian Troubles in the Southwest. A Cordon of Vessels to Guard against Cholera. Notes from the Capital.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—The president to-day appointed Samuel T. Hauser of Helena, Montana, to be governor of Montana.

HELENA, M. T., July [illegible].—With the appointment of Samuel T. Hauser as governor the people of Montana are more than content. He is the first citizen of the territory named for that office. The Independent says: "Hauser is a staunch democrat but an affable, genial gentleman who never uttered a word of disloyalty or bitterness even in the heat of political strife. No citizen of his politics could have been appointed with assurances of more general satisfaction." Of the present governor, Carpenter, the same paper says: "He goes out of office with honor to himself and the trust he has well and faithfully discharged. His dispossession is simply that he is a republican and is within the executive chair is offensive to a democratic president."

INSTRUCTIONS TO CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—The secretary of the treasury has issued the following circular to collectors of customs in regard to the termination of certain articles of the treaty of Washington: "Notice having been given by proclamation of the president dated January 31, 1885, of the abrogation of articles 18 to [illegible] and article 30 of the treaty of Washington, collectors of customs are hereby notified that article [illegible] customs regulations of 1884 which was in accord with article [illegible] of the regulations of March [illegible], made pursuant to article [illegible] of said treaty, will cease to be in force from and after this date. Shipments of merchandise in transit from one port or place within territory of the United States to another by a route part of which is by land through the dominion of Canada and part by the great lakes and rivers connecting the same, or by the river St. Lawrence, in either British or American vessels, from ports on the northern frontier of the United States to ports on the Canadian frontier, for transshipment to railway cars, and from points [illegible] the Canadian frontier [illegible] of railway transportation to ports on the northern frontier of the United States will hereafter be treated in all respects as ordinary importations from foreign contiguous territory."

NEW INSTRUCTIONS TO CUSTOMS COLLECTORS.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The secretary of the treasury has issued a circular to customs officers in regard to protests and special appeals on charges, in which he says: "In view of the large number of appeals that are being received at this department involving the addition by the appraisers of so-called charges to the value of imported merchandise, the department has deemed it expedient to recall your attention to the fact that by section [illegible] of the act of March 3, 1883, all charges previously required to be added to the market value in estimating dutiable value were abrogated, and such charges can no longer be considered by customs officers as factors for ascertainment and assessment of duties. Customs officers are therefore expressly cautioned against the use of the term 'charges' in their returns of dutiable value, inasmuch as confusion and uncertainty are liable to [illegible] therefrom in the minds of importers."

THE NEXT EXPOSITION.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—It is the purpose of the [illegible] of the new exposition which is to be opened at New Orleans in November to obtain an exhibit from Mexico, and to secure exhibits from South American and Central American states and West India islands, and yesterday Secretary Bayard stated this project would have the friendly support of the state department.

THE INDIAN TROUBLE.

General Augur Thinks there is no Danger of an Uprising.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—[illegible] resolutions recently adopted at a meeting of residents of Cochise county, Arizona, to the effect that the attempt to keep the Apache Indians on San Carlos reservation has proved a disastrous failure, and expressing a belief that it is the [illegible] sentiment of all citizens of the territory [illegible] who furnish arms and supplies to Indians that they should be removed from the territory to some region where it will be impossible for them to continue their raids. [illegible] an address to the president [illegible] the history of various outbreaks of the Apaches and asking that steps be taken to remove them from San Carlos reservation and locate them in Oklahoma lands in Indian territory. If it should be found impracticable to remove all the Indians from the reservation it is desired that [illegible] measures be adopted to [illegible].

A DIFFERENT REPORT FROM AUGUR.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—Adjutant General Drum has received a report from General Augur, dated Fort Leavenworth June [illegible], in regard to the reported attack [illegible] Ute Indians in Colorado. General Augur says that Carlisle, from whom most of the sensational telegrams are sent, [illegible] is agent of an English cattle syndicate, not one of whom he is informed is an American citizen. He is also informed that the syndicate does not own the land upon which its cattle range, and that it is public land. General Augur enclosed extracts from the Rocky Mountain News of Denver which say that the stories of the Ute troubles are not entirely without foundation but are grossly exaggerated. Possibly there has been some trouble. The general thinks, but there is every reason to believe it has been brought on by cow boys who have been spoiling for a fight for a long time, and [illegible] to shoot all Indians found away from the reservation. [illegible] that whites and Indians [illegible] confirmation.

WANT THE INDIANS DISARMED.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—Ex-Delegate Oury of Arizona and Hughes of that territory called upon the commissioner of Indian affairs to-day to urge the disarming of Indians on the San Carlos reservation in Arizona. They expressed a belief that this measure if adopted would prevent a conflict that is impending between Indians now on the reservation and white settlers. Commissioner Atkins met the request with a proposition that cowboys also be disarmed, and then proceeded to expound his views upon the Indian question at some length. He said he failed to see any reason why cowboys should carry arms when Indians were disarmed, and added that it was entirely improper for any person, white, black or red, to be permitted to ride around the country with a Winchester rifle and an army revolver free to shoot anyone on sight.

THE INDIANS MAKE A [illegible].

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—The following telegram relative to the Ute Indians was received at the war department this afternoon from Schofield: "General Augur telegraphs the following from Colonel Bradley: Colonel [illegible] telegraphs that the [illegible] chiefs promise not to make any more reprisals for the killing of the Ute family on the Dolores. He says full rations should be issued immediately to those Indians to prevent them leaving their reservation to hunt. I invite attention to the immediate necessity for feeding those Indians so as to prevent them leaving their reservation. It is impossible to prevent trouble between them and cowboys if they leave the reservation to hunt."

GENERAL GARCIA ALIVE.

TUCSON, Arizona, July 3.—The reported killing of General Garcia in an engagement with Yaquis is denied in a letter to [illegible] station here. The letter states that General Garcia arrived at Guaymas a few days ago with prisoners taken in the engagement in which he was reported killed.

GUARDING AGAINST DISEASE.

A Cordon of Revenue Marine Vessels to be Established.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The secretary of the treasury to-day issued the following circular in regard to precautionary measures against the introduction of contagious diseases into the United States: "In order to assist local authorities in the maintenance of quarantine against the introduction of infectious diseases, as provided in section [illegible] of the revised statutes, the [illegible] portion of the act of April 29, 1878, and the recent appropriation acts, authorizing the president to maintain quarantine at points of danger, the president has determined to establish by means of vessels of the revenue marine a national patrol for the coast of the United States so far as it may be practicable under the existing law, and consistent with the performance of other duties confided to that service. You are accordingly directed to cruise actively with the revenue steamer under your command upon the outer lines of your cruising grounds, and to exercise special vigilance in speaking all vessels arriving from foreign ports or from southern points of the United States, directing your inquiries first as to the port from which the vessel sailed, and secondly as to the health of those on board at the time of departure and at the time of hailing. Should the information gained indicate a condition of contagion or infection of the vessel or crew, or that the vessel has left a port at which contagious or infectious diseases were prevailing, her master will be directed to proceed for examination to the outer quarantine station provided for her port of destination.

INSPECTION OF VESSELS.

"The following regulations will be observed in relation to the inspection of vessels. If the vessel is found with sickness on board or in a foul condition she will be directed to proceed to the quarantine station [illegible] before indicated, and the revenue marine officer will immediately notify the proper quarantine officer. In such case no person will be permitted to board the vessel until medical officers in charge of the [illegible] shall have given the usual permits. Should the pilot or master of vessel, when hailed, report a case of [illegible] of sickness on board, the revenue officer will not board [illegible] will [illegible].

"Quarantine officers will be recognized as follows, viz: Medical officers or acting assistant surgeons of the marine hospital service in charge of the Gulf, south Atlantic, Cape Charles or Delaware breakwater quarantine, or any officer in such service on duty at any point on interior rivers, great lakes, or the Pacific coast, and all quarantine officers acting under proper state or local authority. Special regulations to all local quarantine authorities will be promulgated hereafter should reason require."

TROUBLE ON THE TRAIL.

Texas Cattle not Permitted to Pass through the Cherokee Strip.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Complaints having been received at the interior department that cattle men who hold leases of lands in the Cherokee strip in Indian territory forcibly obstruct and prevent the passage of cattle from Texas to the northwest through the strip, the secretary has announced that the established cattle trails through that country are free to drovers, and that the right of passage will be maintained by all the power of the United States government.

TEXANS PROTEST.

GALVESTON, July [illegible].—The News says: The Hon. [illegible] Sayres was in conference to-day with John [illegible], president of the Southwestern live stock association, in regard to the reported interruptions to the passage of Texas cattle to Colorado over the trail agreed upon at the Dallas convention. Mr. Sayres telegraphed to the secretary of the interior as follows: "It is reported that Texas cattle are being prevented by the United States authorities from passing through the Cherokee strip, a distance of about forty miles, to reach Colorado. If true, immediate loss will result, parties having driven from Texas [illegible] 50,000 head of cattle upon the trail that they will be permitted to pass through. Immediate action should be taken to keep the route open, or great injustice will be done, resulting in heavy loss to Texas cattlemen without any benefit to anyone except for speculative purposes. I have written you fully."

AN APPEAL TO LAMAR.

George Sayres says Governor Ireland, and at his instance the governor sent Secretary Lamar the following dispatch: "There are now on the border 50,000 cattle on their way to northern markets from Texas, and federal officers, said to be United States marshals, have notified the owners that they cannot pass along the agreed trail across the southwest corner of the Cherokee nation. It is said that this is done at the instance of the interior department. I shall not believe it until I know that it is so. With other obstacles thrown in the way of Texas commerce by Kansas and Nebraska, this added for the purpose of getting the cattle at nominal figures will prove disastrous in the extreme, and I earnestly request that you give such orders at your earliest convenience as will allow these [illegible] to get to market."

[illegible] little left to say [illegible] the trail. The [illegible] from southern and southwestern Texas. No answer has yet been received to the [illegible] sent to Secretary Lamar.

PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

EVIDENCES OF PROSPERITY.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The first half of the year has been marked by unusual activity in real estate and building. The period has been exceptional [illegible] in two particulars of a most promising nature, namely the number of purchases of small lots by men who have [illegible] been content to let their savings lie in banks, and in the number of small dwellings built for [illegible] by mechanics. While building in all classes has been brisk, the number of small homes which have gone up on lots [illegible] recently sold is one of the most solid evidences of underlying prosperity in this city which it would be possible to offer. The building summary for the six months of the current year show a gain of $1,500,000 over the first six months of 1884.

SUIT AGAINST O'DONNELL.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Coroner O'Donnell [illegible] the incendiary who was recently sentenced to twenty years in San Quentin for arson, have been sued by the State Investment Insurance Company. The complaint alleges that Bee, influenced by O'Donnell's speech at San Jose, set fire to the property of S. Goldstein and the Pacific Manufacturing Company in Santa Clara county, through which complainant was compelled to pay $[illegible] insurance on the property thus destroyed, and now sues to recover this amount.

THE SHARON DIVORCE CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The announcement is made to-day that the next move in the Sharon case will be by plaintiff's counsel, who will apply to the supreme court for a rehearing of motions to dismiss appeals taken by defendant from the order granting plaintiff alimony and counsel fees and from the judgment granting her divorce. These [illegible] motions which the supreme court denied on Monday last.

According to the records of Chauncey M. St. John, [illegible] measurer of vessels, the following crafts have been built at this port during the fiscal year just ended. The home port of all of them is San Francisco, and the list includes eight steamers, twenty [illegible] schooners, eleven propellers and two sloops, making a total of forty-six new vessels. The others were distanced.

Interesting events are promised for to-morrow's races.

STATE DISPATCHES.

SUICIDE.

CORVALLIS, July 3.—L. Rosenthal, a young Jewish merchant of this place, committed suicide about 10 o'clock last night by shooting himself in the mouth with a thirty-eight calibre Smith & Wesson revolver. He had had trouble with his father-in-law, brother-in-law and sister-in-law, and left a note addressed to them saying they had driven him to the deed. They were in his store a short time before the suicide, [illegible] in a loud tone. Rosenthal's wife died about a year ago, and the trouble arose over some property of hers.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED.

SALEM, July 3.—Harry Wilson, son of Albert H. Wilson, aged about 18 years, was drowned here to-day while bathing in the Willamette river near the gas works. While diving he was probably taken with cramp, and was drowned before assistance could reach him. His body was recovered in a short time.

Bigger than Old Phidias.

Brooklyn Union.

The most practical indication of the decline of classical enthusiasm in America that Mr. Charles Francis Adams can possibly find is Mr. Stoddard's refusal of the consul generalship at Athens. Time was when an American scholar would forego financial prosperity for the pleasure of even the view from the Acropolis. The statue of Liberty is bigger than Phidias's statue of Athena was.

Luck

Is a word which should have no place in any vocabulary. A man must have ability to succeed, and a medical preparation, merit. There is no luck about SOZODONT. It was sure to succeed from the first, because it was good, and did all that was claimed for it.

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron will restore the weak to health and vigor.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

Lord Randolph Churchill Returned to Parliament.

INCREASE OF CHILD-MURDER.

France Assumes a Friendly Attitude towards the New Ministry. Great Loss of Life and Property in Austro-Hungary.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Woodstock, where the contest for a seat in parliament is between the supporters of Lord Randolph Churchill, new secretary for India, and Corrie Grant, liberal candidate, is taking place to-day [illegible]. The general indication is that the re-election of Churchill is assured.

The election in Woodstock to-day resulted in the return of Lord Randolph Churchill.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The most picturesque canvass for a parliamentary election that has ever been made in England preceded the election of Lord Randolph Churchill in the borough of Woodstock. His adversary was Corrie Grant, a young lawyer whom the liberals sent down from London. It was a ladies' battle on both sides. The campaign was begun by Lady Randolph Churchill (nee Jerome) last Saturday evening by driving a tandem team through the main street of the picturesque old town with the skill and grace to be expected of the daughter of the founder of Jerome park. The liberals quickly resolved to meet their fair adversary on her own ground, and secured the services of Misses King and Adams, lovely young graduates from Oxford. The delightful canvassing of the girl graduates soon captured the populace and the tories began to give way. Lady Churchill lost none of her courage and energy, but she saw something must be done to offset the influence of the pretty girls from Oxford and summoned reinforcements. She obtained two charming reinforcements, Lady Evelyn and Lady Edith Curzon, young daughters of the Earl of Howe, and sent them forth to dazzle the electors, and so won the day.

CHILD MURDER IN LONDON.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The vital statistics of London show a fearful mortality among insured infants. The books of insurance companies show that the death rate among infants who are insured is much greater than the general death rate for the same ages as published in government reports, which include both insured and uninsured infants. The mortality among insured is 40 per cent greater than that among uninsured. These facts strengthen the suspicion into conviction that many infants are deliberately murdered for the sake of insurance on their lives. Insurance companies which accept risks on infants' lives will insure none but healthy children, and consequently the mortality among them should naturally be less than among the general average of children. Some insurance companies seem to accept the conclusion that child murder is the cause of this anomalous condition of affairs complacently, and only seek to secure their own profits under the additional risk by increasing their premiums. A note of alarm has been sounded by the most respectable insurance companies, and echoed by many physicians. It has now been taken up by several medical and legal newspapers, which are imploring parliament to devise some remedy for the growing and horrible crime.

FRANCE MORE FRIENDLY.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The French government has withdrawn its demand for a fixed date upon which English troops shall evacuate Egypt, and offers to leave the period to the discretion of the English government if Lord Salisbury will admit the principle of evacuation. M. Waddington, French ambassador at London, has also made conciliatory overtures regarding the question of control of the Suez canal. This change of attitude on the part of the French government is attributed to an entente between Lord Salisbury and Prince Bismarck.

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE REBELLION IN COLOMBIA.

PANAMA, July [illegible].—News comes from the Atlantic coast that the ports of Barranquilla and Savanilla are again in the hands of the government forces, the revolutionists having gone back and [illegible] up the river to some point in the interior which can not be defined with accuracy. This movement, so some assert, is to intercept General Quintero Caldron, who is on his way with 3000 men to join the loyal forces in the neighborhood of Carthagena. Camargo's force is sufficiently strong to destroy that of his adversary. Others aver that Camargo is on his way for Bogota itself, and that he will pass La Gloria, where Quintero's force is supposed to be, without giving battle, in order to lose no men before arriving at the capital. There is said to be no force of any moment in the neighborhood of Bogota, and the capital would fall an easy capture to the bold and energetic revolutionists. The capture of the capital would not necessarily signify the triumph of the revolution, but it would give it fresh impetus, arouse disaffection in other parts of the republic and kindle anew the slumbering fires of revolt. There are others, however, who believe that the rebels are bound for the states of Santa Ander and Antioquia, where they can easily recruit a number of men among their sympathizers. Camargo and his associates evidently intend to fight, as they refused to ratify the conditions of the agreement drawn up the other day on board the Tennessee by Justo Arosemena and General Hernandez. The conditions were favorable to revolutionists and loyalists alike and it was hoped would end all trouble. Camargo is supposed to have received news favorable to the revolution from sources that were not made public. The only result of the peace conference was an interchange of prisoners.

NEWS FROM PERU.

LIMA, via Galveston, July 3.—Last night the minister of war had a long interview with Colonel [illegible], which confirms the supposition that the latter has been appointed to the command resigned by General Mas. News from Jauja states that on the 24th ult. a grand review of government troops took place, followed by a banquet at which the government commissioner, Senor [illegible], was present. Patriotic toasts to General Iglesias and pacification of the country were drunk.

REACHED SHORE TO PERISH.

LIMA (via Galveston), July 3.—It is rumored that some of the passengers of the wrecked steamer Italia reached shore and subsequently starved to death. Investigation at the scene of the disaster by the steamer Lama revealed the word "fourteen" in English inscribed in the sand. This is the only trace found of the survivors.

CANADA.

HANLAN DEFEATS LEE.

TORONTO, July 3.—An exhibition race between Hanlan, ex-champion oarsman, and Lee of New York, here this evening, was won by Hanlan by two lengths. Lee's boat having been accidentally smashed, he rowed in a borrowed one. Incident to the race Hanlan gave an exhibition of walking on the water with galvanized iron shoes, his own invention. His gait resembled that of a man walking through deep snow.

THE TORONTO CREW.

LONDON, July 2.—The Argonauts four-oared of Toronto, who have been practicing daily for the Henley regatta, rowed to-day in the third heat for the visitors cup. The Trinity hall (Cambridge) crew came in first, and the Toronto crew second. Trinity hall won easily. The Canadians will sail for home next Thursday on the steamer Parisian.

THE WEST INDIES.

CIGAR MAKERS DISPLEASED.

HAVANA, July 3.—Four thousand cigar makers met in convention here to-day and adopted resolutions protesting against the cigar contract with Spain. Owing to the low price agreed upon, contractors here are using a bad quality of leaf and are stamping boxes with labels of accredited brands. A committee appointed by the convention waited upon the governor general and asked him to annul the contract as detrimental to cigar interests at large. The governor general promised to look into the matter.

TWELVE BANDITS CAPTURED.

The bishops call upon members of parliament from Ireland to seek to have this grievance removed.

INDIA.

CROPS IN INDIA.

BOMBAY, July 3.—There has been but a scanty rainfall so far this season. Prospects for good crops are bad in Madras and Bengal, but in the central provinces satisfactory results are looked for.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

New York has little more than double the population of Brooklyn, but when it comes to running the city government the metropolis takes the lead by a much larger majority. It costs $9,000,000 a year to run Brooklyn, while New York's bill is $30,000,000.

John C. Stevens was the founder of American yachting. He founded the New York club, which originally numbered only nine yachts. Now there are 1800 vessels of the kind belonging to American owners. Stevens built the famous yacht America. The oldest American yacht is the Minnesota, which was built in 1848.

Poor Morrison thinks that his unfortunate tariff reform creation which men call "horizontal reduction," would by any other name smell somewhat sweeter. He says: "The people say they do not want a horizontal reduction. The truth is they do not want a reduction of any kind. I will provide in the proposed bill for about such a reduction in amount as I provided for in my last bill."

The bones of Pizarro, the Indian butcher, lie in the crypt of the Grand Cathedral at Lima, which he built in 1540 and which is the most imposing ecclesiastical edifice in America. It is said to have cost $[illegible]000,000. That sum may have been spent upon it, but the money came from the old Inca temples, which were robbed of their gold and silver ornaments and stripped of their carved timbers by the Spaniards.

Lightning has killed 4605 persons in France since 1835. An equal number have been seriously, though not fatally, wounded, and five times as many struck. The hot years were the most fatal, and these are remarkable as having been the best wine seasons. There has not been a single death from lightning in Paris or the department of the Seine since 18[illegible], though there have been many violent storms there during that time.

There are now established on the coast of Great Britain 2[illegible] lifeboat stations. In the current year there were [illegible] casualties to shipping around the British isles, [illegible] lives and eighteen vessels were saved, in addition to 189 lives by shore boats and other means where rewards were given, being a total of [illegible] lives saved through the agency of the society. During the year lifeboats were launched [illegible] times and not one man of their crews was lost.

The city house which Mr. J. C. Flood is building in San Francisco will be a very extensive structure, like those of Governor Stanford and the Crockers. One room will be done in ivory and gold. The cost is fabulous. At one time Mr. Flood would not hear of having it done, but the architect finally prevailed and he will be allowed to carry out the original plans. He has furnished complete drawings—one may say paintings—of every room, just as it will appear when finished some two years hence.

The recent death of ex-Senator James W. Nesmith of Oregon leaves Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, Lyman Trumbull of Illinois, James Harlan of Iowa, Samuel C. Pomeroy of Kansas, Morton S. Wilkinson and Henry M. Rice of Minnesota, Daniel Clark of New Hampshire, Edgar Cowan of Pennsylvania, John Sherman of Ohio and James R. Doolittle of Wisconsin, the only surviving members of the United States senate at the commencement of the late civil war and who took their seats at the memorable first session of the Thirty seventh congress, July 1861.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION.

Cleveland Leader: Whether Mr. Blaine will or will not come to Ohio is as yet undetermined, but should he do so the splendid majority given him last fall will meet with no diminution in October next.

Philadelphia Press: Neal Dow is going right ahead with his job of smashing the republican party in Maine. It is unfortunate for the party that it has so far failed to understand Dow's revolutionary purposes.

When trying to defend the suppression of a half million republican votes in the south by the democrats, the Boston Herald naively remarks: "We do not enter into either the ethics or the facts of the case."

Judge Norton, a democratic politician of New York, thinks that the national administration ought to be worth 50,000 votes to the democracy in his state in November, but he is in doubt whether it will be.

It will take a good deal of time to look into the record of all of Cleveland's appointments, and so the Richmond Dispatch argues that the senate will be compelled to confirm nine-tenths of them without delay.

Congressman Reagan's hostility to the democratic national administration will probably destroy his chances of being the candidate of his party for governor of Texas. He wants the honor, he says, to "round off his political career."

New York Sun: There have been presidents who could be charged with a lack of backbone, but Grover Cleveland is certainly not deficient in that indispensable organ, and yet the democracy hates and despises the civil service humbug as it hates poisons and despises nonsense.

Boston Journal: What is the use of keeping up the hypocritical pretense of reform? The departments and the government offices are to be emptied as rapidly as they can without demoralizing public business, why not do it openly instead of by indirection, by stealthy attack, by eavesdropping and innuendo, and a stab in the dark?

Philadelphia Press: President Cleveland's promise was that the territorial offices should be given to residents of the territories. For a sample of his performance see the appointment of George W. Julian of Indiana to be surveyor general of New Mexico and of W. B. Fleming of Kentucky to be a supreme court judge of the same territory.

Toledo Blade: The democratic press is drumming the tune that the war is over, that the south is glad that it was whipped, that the southern people are as loyal to the Union as those of the north, that to say anything about the condition of the negro is to wave the bloody shirt, and so on. The Ohio republican platform takes the true and patriotic ground that the attempt to disfranchise a class of voters is a matter of public concern. It pledges the republicans of Ohio to a policy that will protect their rights.

PORTLAND, SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1885.

SMALL BOYS' DAY.

There are about as many different ways of celebrating the Fourth of July as there are people who desire to celebrate it. Men and women past thirty-five don't care much about the Fourth, and many of them don't care much about anything. Life, in nearly all its phases gets to be an old story. But even among these there is often a show of celebrating the nation's nativity, and sometimes the interest in the occasion seems to be well sustained. Yet the most enthusiastic of the celebrants are those who are not moved by patriotism, but by excess of animal spirits and a love of noise and fun. We refer, of course, to the small boy, whose intuitions tells him when to look for a great national holiday, long before he is able to decipher the heiroglyphics of the calendar. The pressing necessity for a supply of fire-crackers becomes apparent even before the dawn of the great day, and the irrepressible and effervescent boy is so boiling over with spirits that the days preceding and succeeding the real holiday are made hideous by the noise and noisomeness of saltpeter of the most villainous kind.

Crusty old curmudgeons whose kindliness, if they ever had any, has long since evaporated, are wont to decry these youthful pranks and to suppress them by the sternest measures. Yet such individuals have no right to forget that they were once boys themselves. Away now with the boy-quellers, and let the nation stand aside for one day while Young America, in the fervor with which he hails the return of independence day, shames the man whose life is about as dead as a burnt-out chimney. Let the boy singe off his eye-lashes, scorch and burn his fingers, get his fire-crackers exploded in his pocket, have a good time all day in the heat and dust following up the brass bands, and crawl home at night for rest and repairs.

GENERAL MILES TO BE ORDERED AWAY.

General Nelson A. Miles, commander of this military department, received telegraphic notice yesterday from Washington to be in readiness to start immediately upon receipt of orders for duty in another department. The meaning of this notice, though it is not so stated, is that General Miles will be ordered within a day or two to proceed at once to relieve General Augur, who retires on the 10th inst. from command of the department of the Missouri. In his new command, General Miles will find immediate and possibly very hot work. The Cheyenne Indians, now in insurrection, are in the department of the Missouri, and General Miles will probably have to take the field at once for a summer campaign against them. A man more fit could not have been chosen for this duty. General Miles's successes a few years ago (while colonel of the Fifth infantry) in subduing tribes now living peacefully in neighborship with the Cheyennes, is doubtless the suggestion for his selection for the present service. It is a high tribute to his ability.

It is not likely that General Miles will return to duty in the department of the Columbia. The retirement of General Augur creates a vacancy in the east, and General Miles will doubtless be assigned to it. Indeed, it has been expected all along that his service here would end with the current year or sooner, and his going is a surprise only in that it is so sudden.

General Gibbon it is supposed will be appointed a brigadier to fill the vacancy made by Augur's retirement, and it is altogether likely that he will be assigned to the department of the Columbia; but if he comes he cannot remain long, as he lacks but two or three years of the age for retirement.

During the interim the department will be temporarily in charge of General Wheaton, of the [illegible] infantry, or it will be commanded by General Pope from the division headquarters at San Francisco. Only one officer will accompany General Miles from the department—his aid, Lieutenant Oscar F. Long. Captain Baldwin, so long connected with his staff, remains as judge advocate of the department.

IRON ON THE RETIRED LIST.

New processes for manufacturing steel have been brought to such perfection that steel can be produced as cheaply as malleable iron, and can be substituted for iron in all places where it is required for human use. Some of these newly-applied methods are so simple and inexpensive that pig iron may be converted into steel at a cost not exceeding [illegible] a ton. The greater durability of steel makes it more desirable for every purpose to which iron has been applied in the past, and the fact that a steel bar or rod an inch in diameter will stand as great a strain as an iron bar or rod five inches in diameter increases in the same proportion its usefulness wherever it is placed.

The cheapness of steel and its greater value for industrial uses have caused the owners of large iron plants to make such changes in the machinery and appliances that they can manufacture steel instead of iron products. At Wheeling many nail factories will be so altered as to make steel instead of iron nails. In the Calumet Iron and Steel works, at Chicago, such machinery is to be added as may be required for rolling steel to be made up into nails, the steel nails heretofore produced at these works having been made of rolled steel purchased elsewhere for the purpose. Similar changes are being made, or have been made, at large establishments in the east and west. Iron rails have almost entirely disappeared from the railroads or are being abandoned as fast as they are worn out. No more first-class iron ships are to be constructed, steel being used instead of iron for all the purposes of naval architecture. In fact, there hardly seems to be any remaining use for iron except to be converted into steel, under some of the new modern processes.

A great advance has been made recently in the manufacture of steels by what is known as the Clapp-Griffiths process. By this process decarbonization of the iron is effected in the same manner as by the Bessemer process, by the blowing of air at pressure through the molten mass in the vessel, yet the different arrangement of the plant and the method of working produces a steel that differs in a number of important respects from the product of the Bessemer process. While the Bessemer process removes neither the phosphorus nor silicon from the pig-metal, the Clapp-Griffith process produces a steel that is almost entirely free from silicon, though it does not remove any of the phosphorus; but it is found that when the silicon is removed the presence of a large percentage of phosphorus in no way interferes with the working of the metal. But the great advantage is in reduced cost. As compared with the other steel making processes the cost of erecting a Clapp-Griffiths plant is small, and this fact alone will lead to the extensive introduction of the process into the different iron works of the country. At an expense not exceeding $60,000 a plant of two converters could be built, including all machinery and necessary buildings, which would be capable of producing from 80 to 100 tons of ingots in twenty-four hours.

Whether a revival of industrial interests will follow the transformation of the iron plants into steel works throughout the country can hardly now be predicted. A large amount of capital will be expended in the near future in making such changes. There is but little use for the vast iron mills scattered throughout the Union, or clustered about the sources of iron and coal production, as the market for iron has in great part ceased to exist, and there is no prospect in view that any future iron demand will be created. The revolution is like their [illegible] must be awaited before its consequences can be divined.

THE CHINESE MISSION.

Facts have just come out which shed some light on the recent very surprising conduct of Judge William T. Wallace of San Francisco in declining the Chinese mission. To the people of California, who knew what a persistent seeker after office he is, and to his political intimates who knew how particularly he desired the Chinese mission before it was offered him, Judge Wallace's declination was unaccountable. And his letter was actually stunning. For a man who, through long residence in California, was familiar with the Chinese question in its practical aspects, and who had discussed it ably and soundly year after year in his public speeches, to thus suddenly turn about and write such a letter, was a surprise of the first magnitude. Of course it was known that Judge Wallace knew better: and so, why should he do as he did? California, full of indignant rage, is still puzzling over this conundrum.

It comes out through private sources, that a day or two after Judge Wallace was appointed, he was informed that Judge Field and other influential men of his own party would oppose his confirmation, and fearing that they would beat him and send him home discredited, he determined to decline, and he determined further, that no other Californian should have the place—hence his letter advising the president that the appointment of a Pacific coast man would be taken as an unfriendly act by the Chinese government, and that a better course would be to appoint an eastern man against whom there could be no prejudice of locality. This was naturally effective; and instead of giving the appointment to some Oregon, California or Nevada man familiar with the important questions at issue between our own and the Chinese governments, the president gave it to Colonel Denby, a man who abandoned the cause of the Union during the war because he differed from the policy which led to the abolition of slavery.

It is not necessary to go from home to show the untruthfulness of Judge Wallace's letter. If the president had been an intelligent statesman, he would have known that the officer most liked and trusted by the Chinese government of all the men we have ever sent to them, was a Pacific coast man, and more than that, an ex-pest advocate of the Pacific coast idea of restriction. The favor in which Judge O. N. Denny of Oregon was held by the Chinese government during his residence there as American consul general, proved by a hundred friendly acts during his official career and since his return home, demonstrates that the Chinese feel no prejudice against men because they happen to be from the Pacific or because they differ upon questions of international policy. So long as a man treats them with proper respect, so long as he urges his views in terms of common courtesy and so long as his expressions on Chinese questions are decent, the Chinese officials will receive him without prejudice. The career of Judge Denny proved this. We do not mean to suggest that the position should have been given to Judge Denny. The appointment of a republican was of course not to be expected from a democratic administration, but it was not necessary to go away from a locality where alone men can be found who understand the Chinese question in all its details from the American standpoint.

Colonel Denby's conduct since his appointment has shown a misconception of the duties of a foreign minister equal to his misconception a few years back of the duties of a loyal citizen. He appears to think that his duties abroad will be to look out for the interests of China in its dealings with the United States, forgetting or perhaps not knowing that the Chinese diplomats are quite able to protect their country's interests without foreign aid. The Chinese ambassador at Washington is not a good man for an American minister to study the Chinese question with. Time which Colonel Denby is spending in lobe-nobbing at Washington is really to his prejudice, for he will begin his duties with the Chinese instead of the American idea of the questions between the two countries.

The grand jury, in a report which we print this morning, makes some very serious charges against the management of the county poor farm. If it be true that the abuses charged really exist, the superintendent is guilty of something more than mismanagement. The sale of the products for the personal benefit of the superintendent is nothing more nor less than embezzlement.

The Advocate is twelve years old. It is a right good paper, fully equal to its field and its opportunities, is industrious and bright and appears to be as prosperous as a paper in a small community can be. It shows steady improvement from year to year, which is the best sign that could be had of its usefulness and permanence.

"And yet," says the New York Sun, "the democracy hates and despises the civil-service humbug as it hates poison and despises nonsense."

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.—[illegible] in connection with a resolution passed last Friday [illegible] calling upon certain citizens to meet within a week for the purpose of organizing a society whose purpose shall be to assume temporary care and [illegible] of children [illegible] courts for guardianship under the recent act of the legislature, a number of the persons named assembled at the banking house of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. [illegible] was called to the chair, the resolutions under which the call was made were read and the object of the meeting was briefly stated. It was moved by Mr. [illegible] that a committee of five be nominated, whose duty it shall be to prepare the basis of an organization, in the form of articles of incorporation and constitution and bylaws, to be submitted to a subsequent meeting of the general committee. The motion prevailed and the [illegible] nominated were [illegible]: Messrs. [illegible] Eliot, W. B. Gilbert, Dr. [illegible] Kerr, D. P. Thompson and Miss H. [illegible] Spalding. It was moved that this committee report at an adjourned meeting to be held next Friday evening at the same place. There being no other business to be undertaken at this time, adjournment was had until Friday evening, as above.

HIS STRENGTH LIKE SAMSON'S.—A drunken fellow who had been refused [illegible] the transfer boat at the Ash street dock several times yesterday [illegible] after her as she left the wharf and succeeded in getting on board. A policeman was taken out in a small boat and arrested the fellow and took him to jail. He gave the name of Reckless Harry, and is a [illegible] by profession. He demanded a jury trial and insisted that the jury should be composed of gentlemen [illegible] Among the articles found on his person was a recipe for a liniment which is probably his stock in trade. The captain who searched him asked if he had any money. He said: "How do you expect a man to go around town like this when there are so many saloons and have any money left?" When the captain had finished his search [illegible] [illegible] the fellow had something in his hat [illegible] which was placed his hand [illegible] down reaching to his waist, which startled the captain [illegible] "What is it?" [illegible]

HILLSBORO RACES.—There was [illegible] yesterday at the Hillsboro [illegible] The track was slow. In the first event there [illegible] trot for Washington county horses, [illegible] entries [illegible] and [illegible] W. Ornitley's Wonder. Hamilton won easily in three straight heats; best time [illegible] [illegible] three year old [illegible] Katie Kirk [illegible] straight heats, best time [illegible] The third event was between [illegible] and Good Shot. Badger winning easily [illegible] [illegible] a dash [illegible] Minnie Arnold and [illegible] [illegible] Almonette [illegible] Hamilton and two other horses [illegible] and a trial against speed in which [illegible] will attempt to beat 2:30. A special train will leave [illegible] station at [illegible] and [illegible] who go out are pretty certain of seeing a good day's sport.

CAN'T [illegible] ONLY A [illegible]—[illegible] blocked with vehicles [illegible] of the Tele[illegible] phone yesterday and a great uproar was created. Officer [illegible] Morgan, who was on duty there [illegible] [illegible] to straighten things out. He told [illegible] [illegible] drive [illegible] and Officer Gillam attempted to do so, he was told, and Morgan arrested the pair. Gillam put up $5 bail but [illegible] was locked up. [illegible] [illegible] the various wharves are [illegible] [illegible] shouting and hacking [illegible] than necessary. [illegible] the hackmen and expressmen think they [illegible] have over the [illegible] in the finest force in the state [illegible]

FOURTH FIREWORKS [illegible]—[illegible] fireworks and [illegible] was [illegible] last evening [illegible] people [illegible] packages of fireworks of all kinds. But few of those who purchased them expected to derive any pleasure from the din and noise they would make, but [illegible] [illegible] when they [illegible] pleasure in creating an infernal racket, and this led them to give the youngsters a treat. To the average boy nothing [illegible] fireworks [illegible] and not all the noise made by all the [illegible] and bombs fired by all the other boys in town can afford one-half the delight furnished by a cracker [illegible] or bombs of his very own touched off by his own hand at the risk of his own fingers and eyes. So buy your little ones some of the least dangerous articles of bottled noise and let them wreck [illegible] lying and glorify [illegible] to-day.

RED SUNSET.—The western sky was colored a bright roseate hue last evening and all around the horizon and up to the zenith the clouds were tinged with red—a repetition of the brilliant sunsets of last summer, which were the subject of so much discussion. This is the first time the phenomenon has been seen in any degree [illegible] this season. About [illegible] o'clock it was very brilliant and attracted general attention. The scientists, after much discussion, decided that the red sunsets of last season were caused by volcanic dust [illegible] atmosphere. [illegible] considered [illegible] last evening.

THE WHITE BEAR MINES

Gold Bearing Manganese Discovered in Columbia County near the Washington County Line—What the Strike is Worth.

The good people of Washington county are beginning to feel proud of their section of country since the discovery of manganese mineral over toward Columbia county in the Coast range. The new find is known as the White Bear lode and was discovered about four weeks ago by G. F. [illegible] and Charles Bateman. These prospectors say the country around them abounds in mineral cropping of various kinds. Their location is on the right hand fork of Wolf creek, a tributary of the upper Nehalem, quite easy of access. There is a good wagon road within six miles and a good pack trail to the mine. The mine is [illegible] Dairy creek post [illegible]

The vein is twelve feet wide on the surface, and four experts [illegible] have already been [illegible] by other parties. The mineral has been assayed in this city and pronounced the finest quality of manganese. The ore as it comes from the mine is worth about $100 per ton.

Manganese is one of the precious metals. Books [illegible] at $105 per pound avoirdupois. It has never before been found in America as far as known, and has only been found in some parts of Europe, and the finest mineral comes from Russia. It is used to make steel rails and in the manufacture of steel generally; it will harden iron. It is on the point of gold pens. It is used extensively in medicine, and in many other ways.

EDUCATION OF SCHOOL TEACHERS.

DRAIN, [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I notice in your issue of the [illegible] a letter from an "Old Fogy" in regard to normal schools and teachers' institutes, which displays so much evident antagonism to the modern methods of school work that I feel constrained to make a brief reply.

[illegible] of the letter [illegible] have been repeated so many times that they grow stale. He also says some good things which are neither brilliant nor facts. To illustrate, he says in substance that a man will be just as good and successful a teacher without special training as with it. Who believes this? He might as well assert that a man may be as successful a doctor or lawyer, or mechanic, without special training, as with it.

He then rehashes the old assertion that teachers should receive no further education from the state than other professional men. To this proposition it may be answered that if the state furnished medical attendance in sickness and legal counsel in litigation to the rising generation, the two cases would be parallel; until then they are not. As the case now stands we boast of our free school system as one of the essential elements of our prosperity. In pursuance of this theory systems of special training for those who are to direct the education of the masses have been [illegible] and schools for this training have been established. There are four such schools in Oregon: At Monmouth, Ashland, Drain and Weston. Not one of these receives any financial aid from the state. While we believe that the state ought to maintain one large, fully equipped normal school at state expense, the fact is that it lends its aid only to the extent of recognizing their diplomas as sufficient evidence [illegible] for work in the school room.

The gentleman asserts that a majority of those graduated from normals [illegible] not teach. This [illegible] assertion [illegible] the facts do not sustain [illegible]

One word in criticism of his remarks [illegible] institutes and I close. He asserts that the [illegible] ones [illegible] comparison [illegible] teachers' institute [illegible] [illegible] whoever [illegible] that no live teacher could possibly suggest any improvements in his methods of teaching. Those who attend teachers' institutes with a desire to learn something that may increase their own fund of practical knowledge invariably find it just as surely as that [illegible] awake farmer [illegible] something of practical value each week from the [illegible] columns of THE OREGONIAN.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT

To the Honorable Judge of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county, State of Oregon:

We, the grand jury of Multnomah county, submit for your consideration the following report of our labor for the term just ending:

Number of days in attendance, 2[illegible]; number of cases examined, 1[illegible]; number of "not true bills" found, 11; number of cases examined on [illegible] information, 10.

We have examined the condition of the county jail and the city jails of Portland and East Portland. The county jail and the city jail of Portland are cleanly and in good sanitary condition. The city jail of East Portland we found filthy and in a bad condition for the reception of prisoners.

We commend [illegible] for the order [illegible] in the county jail [illegible] wants of the prisoners. Although it comes within the province of the grand jury to examine the books of the county [illegible] we have not done so, feeling as we do full confidence in their official honesty and integrity.

We paid an official visit to the county poor farm and particularly desire to call the attention of the county commissioners to the manner in which the same is conducted. The visiting physician makes but one visit per week, when he should make at least three. The patients [illegible] improperly cared for and poorly fed. We believe that the food products of the farm [illegible] [illegible] being used by the inmates [illegible] sold in the Portland market for the [illegible] the superintendent. The food furnished [illegible] unfit for use. The Chinese [illegible] should be carefully guarded and better [illegible] the whole manner of conducting the [illegible] needs to be carefully investigated and reformed. The brief space of our report [illegible] us enumerating the many abuses which we saw. Respectfully submitted,

There was [illegible] and she passed away quietly. The funeral will take place from St. Francis church Sunday at half past one o'clock.

At the regular meeting of Pioneer Engine Company last evening, [illegible] was voted for the relief of J. W. Sullivan, who was injured at a recent drill, and it was ordered [illegible] dues and [illegible] be remitted [illegible]

A distinguished tramp arrived here yesterday over the O. & C. road. The feature of his distinguishment from the plain ordinary tramp consisted in his long hair, which reached to his waist, and was of a dark brown color and silken nature. In the language of the modern novelist, he might be termed "a handsome wretch."

Two prominent citizens of Stephens' addition, while crossing lots on Jimmy Stephens' place the other evening for a short way home, were chased by Uncle Jimmy with shotgun on suspicion of being chicken thieves. They escaped unhurt, however, and [illegible]

The case of assault with a dangerous weapon preferred against M. [illegible] Olney of [illegible] by J. H. [illegible], came up in Justice Simpson's court yesterday. The evidence went to show that defendant threatened to strike Mr. [illegible] with an axe he held in his hand if he [illegible] his daughter, with whom he was conversing [illegible] he accused of misrepresenting him. The court considered the evidence sufficient to hold the defendant to appear before the grand jury, fixing his bonds at $500.

William McGregor [illegible] the arrest [illegible] Fred Anderson [illegible] on a warrant sworn out before Justice Simpson. The complainant alleged that defendant appropriated [illegible] cents lent [illegible] in payment for a glass of beer on the ground that complainant owed him that amount and more; that complainant denied the debt and told defendant that if he intended to rob him he might take other money amounting to about $25, which he then laid on the counter, and which defendant [illegible] in the drawer [illegible] The complainant was the only witness who supported the complaint, all other witnesses giving evidence in direct contradiction thereto. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Burnes, evidently satisfied that complainant had misrepresented the facts, moved a dismissal of the case, which was granted, and Wm. Lock, defendant's attorney, suggested that there was good ground to institute a charge of perjury against complainant.

OUR FIRST GUN

Our advertisement last week explained that we would open for sale all goods for our new departure as quickly as we received them. This step is necessary—at least we deem it so—to give as early a proof as possible of the ultimate position our establishment will hold among the merchants of Portland.

By this time mostly all of our friends understand that we shall be "The Macy's of Portland." Such an enterprise requires time and careful attention, and in accordance with advices received from our New York house we shall open our Departments by degrees.

The coming week our

HAT DEPARTMENT

Will be inaugurated. This Department, though not by any means complete yet, will, however, as it now presents itself, show what an awful havoc our prices will create among such houses as have been accustomed to receive big profits.

Hendricks is Sorry for Indianians.

New York Special.

Vice-President Hendricks came in from Atlantic City to-day, and stopped over night at the Murray Hill hotel. A lot of Indianians who live in New York called upon him, and told him they thought it was very rough on Indiana, after going democratic and doing all she did for Grover Cleveland, to be left out in the cold when the offices are being dealt out. Mr. Hendricks said he was very sorry, but that Mr. Cleveland treated him very haughtily, and constantly reminded him of the fact that he was the only original president. Mr. Hendricks thought it was outrageous that Indiana should have only three consuls allotted to her—Denby to China, Magee to Sweden, and Hanna to the Argentine republic—but he did not know what to do about it.

The Prohibition Mistake.

New York Evening Post.

Prohibitionists often object to all attempts at regulating the liquor traffic by the imposition of a tax upon the seller or by the requirement of a heavy fee for the privilege, upon the ground that the vending of spirituous drinks is a crime, which the state has no right to license. The supreme court of Illinois has laid down the law on this subject in a way which will probably surprise such people. The court declares that selling liquor is a common-law right of the vendor, but that it is subject to such rules and regulations as the law making power of the state may see fit to impose. This is obviously the common-sense view of the matter. The trouble with the prohibitionists is that they entirely mistake the character of the act of drinking liquor, for that is what it all comes back to. They say that the state would have no right to license men to receive stolen goods, and that it has no more right to license men to sell intoxicating drinks. But for a man to steal is absolutely and necessarily a crime, while for him to take a drink of liquor, or half a dozen, for that matter, is an entirely innocent act, with which society has no concern unless the effect of the liquor makes him a disorderly person or a charge upon the community. Experience shows that it does produce this effect in a large proportion of cases, and the state has, therefore, the right to place restrictions upon the sale of liquors. Outside of rural communities public sentiment will not sustain attempts to enforce absolute prohibition, and the only practicable way to restrict intemperance in cities and large towns is to impose heavy taxes or exact high license fees.

[illegible] by the Philomath [illegible] band.

After [illegible] the [illegible] were [illegible] Miss [illegible] spoke of [illegible] as [illegible]. Sunlight, electricity and heat were [illegible] moral power [illegible]

"Human Equality" was the subject of a [illegible] by [illegible]. From the [illegible] of [illegible] he showed that [illegible] equality [illegible]

The oration by Miss [illegible] Dickinson, on the subject "Friction," showed that friction in machinery is a proof of imperfection, so friction in the machinery of society, in church, in state, in moral reforms, is but an evidence of want of perfection. Friction is needful. Out of war comes freedom; out of the struggles of reason comes the triumph of truth; from conflict with wrong or corruption, infidelity, comes the reign of right, purity and Christianity.

Messrs. Charles Alexander, G. W. Bethers, W. A. McCulloch, W. E. Gilbert, Kevin Newton, and Miss Anna Evans received diplomas as graduates of the Business institute. The next was a basket dinner and sociable of an hour and fifteen minutes, which was a very enjoyable affair. At 1:15 P. M. a call from the stand, and the audience was quietly seated to listen for an hour and ten minutes to Prof. E. J. Thompson of Salem and Hon. C. S. McElroy.

Professor Thompson's remarks were addressed chiefly to those interested in building up the college [illegible] words of encouragement to [illegible]. The work of college building is always arduous, but Philomath had no reason to be discouraged, he thought, from what he saw and had learned.

Mr. McElroy talked of educational work in Oregon for a few minutes, intermixing witticisms, which provoked a good feeling of merriment to dismiss with.

Taken altogether, commencement here was a right enjoyable affair.

Beecher Liable to be Anything Now.

Lyons (Iowa) Mirror.

"Is Beecher an infidel, an atheist, an agnostic, or what?" are now the queries of the newspapers of inquiring minds. Call him what you please, we agree with a Christian friend at our elbow that it don't matter what else he is since he became a democrat.

Not Such Agreeable Company as at Election.

St. Louis Republican (Dem.)

When the Philadelphia mugwumps called on President Cleveland "a weary look" is said to have passed over his face. It is no wonder. The presence of a dozen or so mugwumps in the east makes the country tired from Oconomowoc to Key West.

An old Remark Well Applied.

Boston Journal.

It is announced that the bills of General Grant's doctors now amount to $10,000. A remark once made by a distinguished lawyer as to the point at which mercy leaves off and larceny begins would seem to be applicable to this case.

A Matter of Belief.

Philadelphia Press.

Brother Beecher does not believe in the fall of the human race in Adam. Neither do we; nor that matter, any more than we believe in the fall of the Congregational church in Henry Ward Beecher.

An Efficient Remedy
In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of these dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
